Be Jeweled

THE INTRODUCTION When mutual friends ran into Harshith at a local, Washington D.C. bar, they cornered him and made him stay at the bar while they called Amita and convinced her to come join. THE PROPOSAL Harshith planned a surprise weekend in Washington D.C. where he proposed at sunset on the couple's favorite bench at Iwo Jima Memorial Park. The Memorial bells rang out after he popped the question. THE WEDDING The morning ceremony was reminiscent of a traditional Indian wedding, with colorful peach and orange colored fabrics and live shenai music. The evening reception was more contemporary, decorated in deep chocolate, rich purple and bright green tones. Coordinator Pacific Hills Banquet & Catering Floral Design Square Root Designs Linens Alok Industries Chairs Classic Party Rentals Lighting Pro Audio & Lighting Invitations Entertainment Design Company Catering Delhi Palace Entertainment Sound Nation, De Bois Productions Videographer Elysium Productions Transportation Classy Chassis Rentals Gown The ceremony gown was a traditional Indian dress from Manish Malhotra in Bombay, India, and the reception gown was designed by Tarun Tahliani Couture. Formalwear Paul Smith Hair & Makeup Ziba Beauty Bridal Jewelry Custom ordered from Bombay, India Bridal Shoes Stuart Weitzman Bridesmaid Dresses Rita Agarwal Designs Favors Godiva Chocolatier Wedding Night Accommodation Hyatt Regency Huntington Beach Resort Honeymoon Asia Gift Registries Saks Fifth Avenue, Bloomingdale's, Crate and Barrel THE NEWLYWEDS The newlyweds loved exploring the many international cities where they traveled for their honeymoon.
