Serena and Dayan's family hosted a grand event to celebrate and bless the couple's engagement according to Hindu tradition. The bride-to-be arrived with her family, bearing gifts and Indian sweets for the future groom's family. After mingling with their many guests, Serena and Dayan and their families entered the magical ballroom to begin the engagement ceremony. The couple and the engagement ring were blessed by a priest and all family members. The mother of the groom-to-be gifted Serena with traditional Indian jewelry
