

DOUBLE HAPPINESS

The lush gardens and sophisticated architecture of Castle Green provided an elegant background for the gold and red hues of Stacey and Charles's modern Chinese-themed nuptials.

DOUBLE HAPPINESS

What began as a blind date set up by co-workers blossomed into a wedding that celebrated the bride's Chinese heritage and incorporated modern accents that reflected the couple's personal taste. To highlight the theme, the ceremony and the reception centerpieces were decorated with bamboo shoots, as well as yellow and red flowers. The Chinese character for double happiness was printed alongside each guest's name on the gold place cards, and guests left the reception with a unique favor of personalized red chopsticks in a gold pouch.
