Hillary and Camilo met in college and spent nine faithful years together before their beautiful rustic wedding took place. During a surprise trip to a boutique hotel in Beverly Hills, the couple entered their room to a display of champagne and strawberries. A card was lying on the bed with Hillary's name on it, and underneath the card was a small silver box. As Hillary read the card, she was brought to tears. Even when Camilo told her to open the box, Hillary still had no idea of what was inside. Stunned and excited after seeing its contents, she tackled Camilo, forgetting all about the ring. Six months later, the couple was celebrating their union at a working ranch and vineyard in wine country.
